

MORE MUSICAL PEOPLE COME.

TWO SINGERS AND A PIANIST ON THE MAJESTIC.

viclans of all sorts in Europe, except a few Hundunian apies who can play certain instruments
but cannot read music, and there are not enough of them to make up a band. When there are they will all come to America. More people capable of making music—believed to be the last god for the season arrived yesterday on the Majestic. The chief among them was Miss Marie Brema, of the Grau Opera Company. Plunket Greene, the ballad singer, and Emil Sauer, the pianist. All three took part in the concert on board for the benefit of the sailors' orphans.

Miss Brema was so anxious to begin her work that she had only time to say that she was glad to get back to America before she hurried off to the Gilsey House to rehearse with the De Reszkes. She is to appear at the Metropolitan Opera House tomorrow night in "Giselle" and "Les Huguenots," along with Lehmann and the De Reszkes.

Plunket Greene said that he was glad to get back to America. He is to give a recital at Carnegie Chamber Music Hall this afternoon, another on Monday and a third on the following Monday.

Emil Sauer will make his first appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House next Tuesday, accompanied by Paul's Orchestra. He will also be there with the concert of the orchestra at Carnegie Music Hall on February 12 and it was glad to get to America.

NO ONE BLAMED FOR GRIFFIN'S DEATH.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY ON THE ELEVATOR ACCIDENT IN WHICH HE WAS KILLED.

Coroner Hart and a jury held an inquest yesterday.

Griffin, secretary of the United States Fire Insurance company, who was killed in an elevator accident in the company's building on the afternoon of December 5. The car was run by Dennis Sullivan, who has been held in $2,500 bail pending the inquest.

John M. Perry appeared for Sullivan, the elevator man, and R. M. Bord, Jr., for Mrs. Griffin. Christian A. Bennecke, the engineer and janitor of the building at No. 35 William-st., testified that he had charge of the elevator, and that it was in good order. He testified that an inspection had been made on the day of the accident, and that when he came down in the elevator five minutes before the accident everything was all right. Sullivan, he said, was a new man, and had only been employed for two days.

Inspector Frankenberg, of the Building Department, testified that he made an examination of the elevator at 10 a. m. on the day the accident occurred, and that he found everything all right. The only cause for the accident he could suggest, he said, was that the elevator was poorly handled and was out of order.

Thomas M. Smith, superintendent of repairs of the Otis Elevator Company, testified that he had charge of the repairs on this elevator after the accident, and that the accident was the result of the counter-weights falling. They were made of cast iron, and the balance beam was jammed up to the top of the car. This could be caused by a slack brake or by a defective stop motion. He did not know if the car was slack at this time, or if the stop motion was in order, but he said the machinery was all in order the accident would not have occurred if the stop motion were not properly adjusted. It would be likely to cause the accident, but he had never heard of the counter-weights coming dislodged.

John H. McFarbo was a passenger in the elevator at the time of the accident, and who was injured, said he struck on the bottom spring of the car of the elevator, and allowed it to come down from the third floor to the bottom with a bump, so that it struck on the bottom spring.

The jury returned a verdict that Griffin came to his death by being struck on the head by a counter-weight, caused by the slipping of the balance beam from the floor as the result of the automatic stop not being properly adjusted. Sullivan, the elevator man, was exonerated from all blame and discharge.

ARRIVALS FROM DAWSON.

THE SLAYING OF A GAMBLER AND SUICIDE OF AN ACTRESS.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 3.—The steamer Rosalia has arrived from the north with 100 passengers.

all from Dawson. The party made the trip in seventeen days. The steamer had some 5000 lbs of gold dust on board. The passengers bring news of a sensational lynching which took place at Eagle City, Alaska, on November 11. "Jack" Jelly, a sea-lookout, a gambler, had collected a gang of toughs around him, and was terrorizing the mining camps. He was waited on by a vigilance committee of twelve determined men and ordered to leave town. He refused, and the next day the vigilantes hanged him to the limb of a tree. The toughs and gamblers who had made his place their headquarters immediately left the town.

On the day the steamer left Dawson Myrtle Brown, a variety actress, committed suicide by throwing herself in the head. She was a native of Lindsay, Ont.

Stories from Alaska say severe weather has been experienced on the Pass. Lake Bennett has at last begun to freeze. The new 177 ft. Pass Railway, begun to be now being built in Canadian territory, has begun work on its last tunnel.

ACCUSED OF USING STAMPS TWICE.

AN INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTOR'S CHARGE AGAINST A BANK PRESIDENT.

Boston, Jan. 8.—Henry Allison, president of the Safety Fund National Bank, of Pittsburgh, was called before Internal Revenue Collector Gill this morning to explain the alleged removal of internal-revenue stamps from old insurance policies and the placing of them on new ones. An agent of the internal revenue office who visited Pittsburgh a few weeks ago reported the matter to Collector Gill. At the close of the hearing, the collector directed Mr. Allison to appear before him, in partnership in the insurance business, to appear in the United States Court next Tuesday.

OFFICER ARRESTED AS A SHAD MAN.
Cincinnati, Jan. 5.—An amusing blunder was made by the police last night in the arrest of the United States District Attorney, William E. Bundy. The mistake was first discovered when the police arrived at the station, when the joke turned out to be a serious matter. When the police arrived, they were told that Bundy was in the city. They then searched for him, but he was not found. The police then searched for him, but he was not found. The police then searched for him, but he was not found.

this city is St. Vincent's Hospital, in West 120th street. It is conducted by the Sisters of Charity.

and it has for many years given free medical attention to the poor. During the last two years, three thousand destitute sick have been cared for, and half fall many of the soldiers returning from Cuba and Porto Rico, enabled by their services, which nursed back to strength by the Sisters of Charity in St. Vincent's. It is intended soon to enlarge the scope of the hospital's work, so that greater attention can be given to the destitute.

A number of well-known women associated themselves several years ago with the purpose to procure the means to build an addition to the hospital. Through contributions made by themselves or procured from their friends, and as the result of an entertainment given by them at the Waldorf-Astoria, enough money was obtained to build an addition to the hospital. These charitable women are now intent upon getting money with which to furnish the new building, and are endeavoring to give a musical and dance at the Waldorf-Astoria on the night of January 18. All of the boxes in the big hall of the hotel have been tion, a gathering so far indicates that the entertainment will be one of much social interest. The large fund will result in the purchase of a new building for the charity, the purpose of which is designed to effect the relief of the poor.
